2.3 Interaction with Laws, Tariffs, Conventions

1. These Conditions:

- a) Apply to the extent permitted by any applicable Laws, and if any provision of these Conditions is void, illegal, invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, these Conditions will be read down to the extent necessary to ensure it is not void, illegal, invalid or unenforceable in that jurisdiction, and
 - b) Prevail unless inconsistent with any applicable Laws, Conventions or Tariffs, in which case the Laws, Conventions or Tariffs will apply to the extent of the inconsistency.
2. In respect of any goods or services we may provide, certain statutory guarantees or warranties may apply for the benefit of consumers. The nature and application of these guarantees or warranties will depend on the relevant jurisdiction.
3. The Australian Consumer Law provides consumer guarantees that services must be:
- a) Fit for the purpose, or give the results, that you and the service provider had agreed to
 - b) Rendered with due care and skill, and
 - c) Supplied within a reasonable time

Where the Australian Consumer Law applies and we fail to provide services to you in accordance with these consumer guarantees, then you may have a right to seek a remedy in accordance with the Australian Consumer Law. Whether there has been a breach of the consumer guarantees depends on the circumstances and we consider a range of factors in determining whether our services were provided in accordance with the consumer guarantees, including:

1. The reason for the delay or cancellation, for example whether it was caused by us, another party or by factors outside our control
2. The length of any delay, and
3. Whether we remedied the delay or cancellation, for example by reaccommodating you on another tour or cruise within a reasonable time

 - b) If a statute or other law provides a guarantee or warranty that cannot be excluded, to the extent permitted by law our liability for a breach of the guarantee or warranty will be limited to either supplying the goods or services again or paying the cost of having them supplied again

2.4 Variation and waiver.

No Nauru Airlines Staff, Authorised Agent or other person is authorised to vary these Conditions. However, Nauru Airlines Staff and/or Authorised Agents may in certain circumstances waive Fare Rules or amounts payable. A waiver on one occasion does not constitute a waiver on any other occasion.

2.5 Bookings on behalf of another carrier and other transportation or services.

If we issue a Ticket for you as agent of another carrier, or we issue a ticket or check baggage on the flight of another carrier, we do so only as agent for that carrier. The conditions of carriage of the other carrier will apply for flights sold on behalf of the other carrier.

These Conditions do not apply to any non-air transportation or other services Nauru Airlines arranges for you (for example, bus transfers and hotel accommodation). Where Nauru Airlines arranges these services, it does so as your agent and your contract is with the provider of the relevant transportation or services. If you require further information about the terms of the contract, please contact the relevant provider.

2.6 Charter Operations.

These Conditions apply to charter or hire operations where we are the operator of the flight unless you are advised otherwise in writing by or on behalf of the charterer prior to boarding the aircraft.

3. GETTING READY TO FLY

3.1 Passports, visas and authorisations.

It is your responsibility to comply with all laws, regulations and orders of your chosen destination. For more information, please ask an Authorised Agent or consult the government which issued your passport. Please consider the following:

1. Make sure you have a valid passport with at least 6 months remaining before it expires. In addition, if your passport expires in 12 months or less, you may want to check whether this is sufficient for your chosen destination and time away
2. Check with the government which issued your passport and the consulates of your chosen destination to see whether you need a visa, other travel documents, or information such as vaccination records, and
3. Find out about any dangers to your health and safety at your chosen destination

The above list is given as a guide only. It remains your responsibility to ensure you have all required authorisations and documentation for your travel. Any assistance Nauru Airlines provides you in this area does not release you from your obligations.

3.2 Finding out about where you are going.

It is a good idea to check relevant government websites to find out about any dangers and risks to your health and safety at your chosen destinations. you can do this by checking with government agencies like the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (<http://www.smartraveller.gov.au>) or the New Zealand Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade (<http://www.safetravel.govt.nz>).

3.3 Your health.

The health and safety of all of Passengers is paramount. That is why it is important for you to be aware of health and safety issues which are relevant to you and to tell us about any health issues which affect your safety or the health and safety of others. If you are in any doubt, please consult your doctor and talk to an Authorised Agent and/or the Nauru Airlines Call Centre.

1. Risks inherent to being seated for extended periods of time.

By its very nature, medium to long-haul air travel involves extended periods of sitting. This may be a risk factor for some people forming blood clots in limbs, known as Deep Vein Thrombosis (DVT). you should discuss with your doctor whether you are at risk of suffering DVT and what preventative measures you should take.

2. Medical Clearance.

If you have a medical condition that falls within our medical clearance Policies, we may require you to provide a medical certificate signed by a qualified medical practitioner. If you do not provide a medical certificate satisfactory to us, we may refuse to carry you on our flights. The medical clearance Policy can be accessed by contacting the Nauru Airlines Call Centre.

4. CODE SHARE SERVICES

We have arrangements with other carriers known as Code Share Services. This means that you may have made a reservation with us, and you may travel on another carrier's aircraft and vice versa.

If such arrangements apply to your flight, we will advise you of the carrier operating the aircraft at the time you make a Reservation. The conditions of carriage of the carrier whose flight number appears on your Ticket will apply to your flight. It is your responsibility to read and comply with those conditions of carriage.

5. RESERVATIONS AND SEAT ALLOCATION

5.1 What is a Reservation?

A Reservation is a booking on a Nauru Airlines flight and is confirmed only when recorded and paid for and accepted by us. An open-dated ticket is not a Reservation. Certain fares may have conditions which limit or exclude your right to change or cancel Reservations. Please check the Fare Rules for details.

This may be necessary for safety or operational reasons.

5.6 Passengers in Economy Class Occupying Two Seats.

This clause applies to economy class travel only. Upon request, or if determined necessary by us, and given availability, you will be permitted to the exclusive use of two seats subject to the payment of two applicable fares for the points between which the two seats will be used. A Ticket will be issued for each seat and the normal Checked Baggage Allowances will apply in connection with each such Ticket presented to us. The carry-on allowance is limited to the allowance for one individual.

5.7 Reconfirmation of Reservation.

You may be required to reconfirm onward or return Reservations with us or any other carriers involved in your journey in accordance with the time limits specified in the relevant Ticket. You are responsible for checking and complying with all reconfirmation requirements.

If you do not use a Reservation and fail to advise us, we may cancel or request cancellation of any onward or return Reservations.

5.9 Collection of personal information.

In general, Fares cover the transport of you and your Baggage (subject to Nauru Airlines' Conditions of Contract and Other Important Notices) from the origin specified in your Ticket to the destination specified in your Ticket. The Fares do not cover your transport to or from the airport or between airports and/or other places unless provided by us without additional charge.

6.9 Which Fare applies?

Nauru Airlines will calculate your exact Fare when you pay for your Reservation. we reserve the right to change Fares (for example, by changing taxes or surcharges) before you pay for your Reservation.

A copy of the Fare Rules is available at www.nauruairlines.com.au or contact your Authorised Agent or the Nauru Airlines Call Centre for further information. Some Fare Rules relate to non-refundable or very restricted Fares, and you should carefully consider these rules, your needs, your insurance cover and whether or not you may be entitled to a refund under applicable Laws, including the Australian Consumer Law, before you pay for your Reservation. Should the Fare Rules applicable to a particular Fare not suit your travel requirements we encourage you to upgrade to a more suitable product (for example, full economy Fare).

You are responsible for applicable taxes or charges imposed by governments, other authorities or by the operator of an airport that are in effect on the date of travel.

6.12 Currency.

Fares and charges are payable in any currency acceptable to Nauru Airlines. When payment is made in a currency other than the currency in which the fare is published, such payment will be made at the rate of exchange set by us at the relevant time.

Except as otherwise provided by a Convention or other applicable Laws, if a search, screening or x-ray causes damage to you or your Baggage, we will not be liable for the damage unless it was caused by our negligence.

Unless this Paragraph 17 says otherwise, international carriage, as defined in any applicable Conventions, will be governed by the liability rules of those applicable Conventions. Where a Convention does not apply, these Conditions will govern Nauru Airlines' liability. If your flight has a destination or stop in a country other than the one from which you depart the Montreal Convention (as amended) or its predecessor, the Warsaw Convention (as amended), may apply to your flight. These Conventions may govern the flight and, in most cases, limit the liability of airlines in the case of your death or injury, loss of or damage to Baggage and delay.

17.3 Death or Injury of Passengers.

- b) Will, if required by law and subject to the limit noted in (i.) above, make advance payments to the person entitled to compensation, if required, to meet immediate economic needs, in proportion to the hardship suffered. An advance payment does not mean that we admit liability and may be offset against any subsequent sums paid on the basis of our liability.
- c) Will not be liable for damage to the extent that it exceeds 113,100 SDRs for each passenger if:
 - i) Such damage was not due to the negligence or other wrongful act or omission of Nauru Airlines or its servants and agents, or
 - ii) Such damage was solely due to the negligence or other wrongful act or omission of a third party.
3. Nauru Airlines reserves all other defences and limitations available under any applicable Conventions to such claims including, but not limited to, the exoneration defence of Article 21 of the Warsaw Convention (as amended) and Article 20 of the Montreal Convention (as amended) except that Nauru Airlines shall not invoke Articles 20 and 22(1) of the Warsaw Convention (as amended) and Articles 19 and 22 of the Montreal Convention (as amended) in a manner inconsistent with these Conditions.

4. Except to the extent required by any applicable Laws, Nauru Airlines is not liable for damage or delay to items which you are asked not to include in your Checked Baggage. Nauru Airlines does not accept the following items as Checked Baggage and does not accept liability for their loss or damage unless the items are identified to us and we have, in our absolute discretion, given our written acceptance for carriage and accepted liability in writing for their loss or damage:

Subject to the foregoing exception, Nauru Airlines' liability for loss of, damage to, or delay in the carriage of Baggage is limited by any applicable Conventions as follows:
- a) If the Warsaw Convention (as amended) applies liability for loss, delay or damage is limited to 250 francs per kilogram for Checked Baggage or 5,000 francs for Carry-on Baggage (unless Article 25 of the Warsaw Convention applies, in which case these limits do not apply).

 - e) The limitations referred in Subparagraphs 17.5.5(a), (b) and (c) above do not apply if the Passenger declared a higher value in advance and paid additional charges pursuant to Paragraph 17. Only in that instance shall Nauru Airlines' liability be extended to the higher declared value.
6. We are not liable for destruction, loss, damage or delay of baggage not in the control of Nauru Airlines, including baggage undergoing security inspections or measures not under the control and direction of us.

If there has been contributory negligence on your part with respect to any destruction, loss, damage or delay of Baggage, our liability may be eliminated or reduced in accordance with applicable Laws. If you hold a Baggage receipt and receive your Checked Baggage without making a complaint, it will be reasonable evidence that the Checked Baggage was delivered in good condition, unless proven otherwise.

8. In case of carriage not subject to any applicable Conventions, Nauru Airlines' liability for Checked and Carry-on Baggage shall be limited pursuant to the Civil Aviation (Carriers' Liability) Act 1959 (Cth) or complementary Australian State legislation.
